FULL MOON RITUAL

If possible, to be said mid-night at full moon.

If there are any words you are not comfortable saying, just leave them out.

Please pass this on to anyone you think will join us.

Thought and words are energy and it is energy that brings about changes. The stronger females can be together, the stronger the message, the sooner we will together bring about a positive change in this world.

Annabell of The Old Ways

At this time, at this moment, as we all look upon the same Full Moon

May women of the world call out with one voice.

Together, we call out for all women to stand side by side, where ever and who ever they be.

Together, we call out that feminine power and voice be brought back in balance with that of men.

Together, we call out that the balance be restored in all things and that woman makes good that which has been destroyed by man.

Together, may we stand, whatever beliefs, whatever culture, whatever nationality – to bring peace, love and compassion.

To demand that truth, honesty and justice be the way.

May we empower ourselves, empower each other across the world and bring back the balance.

For the sake of ourselves, each other, Mother Earth, our children, and our children's children.

TOGETHER, may we make it so.
